In a study which was made last year 961 cases of insanity admitted to the Manhattan State hospital, in which fairly reliable history could be obtained, we found that of all the causes,

ITCH GONE INSTANTLY PROOF AT 25 CENTS

What eczema sufferer would not spend 25 cents to cure that terrible agonizing itch?

Since our repeated recommendations failed to induce some Eczema sufferers right in this town to try D. D. D. Prescription at $1.00 a bottle, we arranged with the D. D. D. Laboratories of Chicago to offer a special trial—for the present—at only 25 cents for this special bottle. This nominal price is made to assure a trial by every skin sufferer.

The remedy will convince you instantly, for it takes the itch away the very moment you start to wash the skin, and it cures—as we KNOW.

Wilfred H. Sherill, judge of the city court of Poughkeepsle, believes that the abuse of alcohol is present in 85 per cent of the cases coming before him on the criminal side of the city court, and at least 40 per cent of the cases occur solely from intoxication.

If this is the experience of the city magistrates in three of the municipal courts, it is fair to assume that the same conditions exist throughout the entire commonwealth, and taken in connection with our experience at the Manhattan State hospital with alcohol as an etiological factor in insanity, the situation demands some provision on the part of the community for the care and treatment of those who are victims of this toxic agent. All physicians are at their wits' end to find even a temporary abode for those suffering from the reportison should be made by the moval of the "rounder."

All physicians, magistrates, representatives of charitable organizations and others who are familiar with the conditions brought about by drunkenness, concede that some remedy is essantial. Under present conditions the friends and family of the drunkard are without means of relief, and the poor, unfortunate victim goes on from bad to worse. It is well known that the treatment of inebriety must cover a long period of time. The temperary detention of the alcoholic does not produce any lasting effect and means simply a return to the old habits within a short time after his release.

The most efficient treatment has been institutional, of which Dr. Alexander Lambert 8ays:

"Institutional treatment, by which the patient may be assured that he will be protected against himself and cannot obtain any alcohol for a period of one or two years, where he can live out of doors and brings his body back into as healthy a state as possible, with a the poisoning, offers the surest means of cure."

The Oriental world is in a state of revolution. Within the past year the Turkish government has been overthrown and the young Turks are in power. Persia is in rebellion and clamors for liberty. The Egyptians are growling at their British overseers, while the millions of India are in a state of unrest. What was long the old world and a dead world, has sprung into life. The Hindoos have their own newspapers, and their leaders, educated by the British, now think for themselves. They have instituted anarchistic societies and are throwing bombs, wrecking trains, and plotting to drive out their rulers. A Nationalist party has arisen in Cairo, and there is trouble from Alexandria to Khartoum. Similar conditions have produced the recent massacres in Turkey. At the same time we may have holy wars. The foundations of the old religions are shaking.

The Mohammedans demand modern schools; and many of the Indian sects want female education. Wonderful changes are going on in all lines of thought, and both lands and peoples are being made over. In these letters Mr. Carpenter will go through India, Burma and Egypt, taik with the people, and see things as they are.

He will do the same in the Lands of the Bible. A great wave of religious awakening is now rising in the United States. The Layman's Missionary Movement, the Community Church, and the Business Man's Christianity are stirring up the American people as never before. Mr. Carpenter will describe the Holy Lands from the standpoint of human interest, and the news interest, just as they are in these days of 1910. The letters should be of absorbing interest.

Letters From the Holy Land

Mr. Carpenter Writes The Deseret News as follows:

Beginning with Egypt, I shall take my readers with me through lands of the Scripture. We shall walk in the footsteps of the Israelites who toiled on the banks of the Nile, and in the brickyards of today watch the masses working as in the times of the Pharoahs. We shall see the farmers raising corn as in the days of Joseph, and can even visit the caves which served as his elevators when he cornered the grain. We shall go through the Land of Goshen, cross the Red Sea at the spot where the Lord turned back the waters, and, after making our way through the Peninsula of Sinai, stand with Moses on the Hills of Moab and overlook the Promised Land.

In Palestine I shall take you to Jerusalem, Bethlehem and the Jordan and show you these places as they are now; and as, in the light of the latest excavations and developments, they must have looked in Bible days. You will travel with me on horseback and in carriages over the roads which Jesus trod. Sit down beside the well where he met the Woman of Samaria, wander through the scenes of His boyhood in Nazareth, and on a little skiff fight the storms of Gallilec. After leaving Palestine we shall go northward to Damascus, one of the most wonderful cities of the old world, and thence across the mountains of Lebanon by way of Ballbec to the Mediterranean Sea.

HOPING FOR SUCCESS.

The institutional treatment also is a rendy means of relief to the unfortunate family and friends of the drunkard. They are assured that he will be treated according to his needs, that his physical health will be improved, the moral side of his nature built up, and his will power strengthened, and consequently they will avoid the pitfalls of the charlatan and the quack.

It is to be hoped that the introduction of the bill which failed to become a law last year will be followed by such an expression on the part of the community as will carry the necessary weight with members of the legislature to pass it. It is my conviction that if one such an institution could be established, say by the city of New York, it would be followed by others in various parts of the state, and in those counties where the population is too small to support an institution of this character, one might be built large enough to receive patients from other smaller communities.
